FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

QPS Launches Catering Division!

Brookfield, Wis. (December 11th, 2008) – QPS Companies, a local staffing and recruiting firm, is pleased to announce the launch of its new catering division!

QPS is now staffing local restaurants, hotels and banquet facilities, specializing in servers, dishwashers, prep cooks and beverage service. This new division is perfect for experienced workers as well as students, moms, retirees and people who are looking for part-time or holiday work. The average pay rate is ten dollars per hour.

QPS' catering division offers "Excellence in Service Training" and has created a customized training session, including video, covering catering topics such as order taking, communication, timeliness, dress and hygiene.

"Not a lot of services offer as much screening, and more importantly, training, for this industry," according to Steve Waller, QPS' Regional Vice President. "As the progressive industry leader, QPS saw the opportunity and has received a positive response to our efforts."

The new service is led by Robb Kashevarof, a professional with 18 years experience. Robb has worked on all levels of the service industry, including sales, management and operations.

As a service to its employees, QPS supplies clean and pressed tuxedo shirts and bow ties, which are available for purchase, or can be returned to QPS and laundered.

Carlos De Leon, with Bartolotta Catering and Events, said, "QPS has always been on time, professional and willing to learn what we are doing each night. QPS has come through on very important nights for Bartolotta Catering and Events and we will continue to use them in order to provide our guests with the best possible service."
